The Oamaru Net has come a long way since its launch about 7 months ago. We have now integrated the 'Oamaru Telegram' into the site 'oamaru.net.nz', giving locals a place to find news and information about Oamaru and its clubs and businesses. Local businesses without an online presence - that are advertising in the 'Oamaru Telegram' are now benefiting from this extra online exposure. Great stuff!

Regards The Telegram.

STONE & GARDEN

Mud & more mud - very sticky underfoot with the frequent bursts of rain and lack of drying winds or frosts to firm ground. Probably the year to lift Dahlia tubers if sitting in saturated ground to prevent rotting of those you do not want to lose.

Full on pruning here now, pruning through the day, then removing thorns from fingers at night. Some thorns are stubborn to remove, requiring a dab of Magnesium Sulphate paste held in place with a plaster - this helps to draw the thorn closer to the surface of the skin. Roses live without pruning, but being deciduous they respond well to a good prune in Winter. Doing this will give you new shoots to replace the old ones and keep the plant young with more flowers per season on shapely bushy plants. Roses are very forgiving if you get it a bit wrong - so don't worry! It is handy to have a good set of tools to make pruning easier (leather gloves, secateurs, loppers, and a pruning saw. New seasons Rhododendrons, Camellias, Azaleas and Daphnes will be on offer soon, with fat healthy buds to tempt the gardener and moist soft ground is perfect for getting these settled in the ground. Early Sasanqua Camellias are flowering now - these Camellias are fast growing and probably the most sun tolerant of all Camellias. They are extremely tolerant of shaping, clipping or espaliering and are ideal as hedges, screens or growing in containers.

If young trees or shrubs need transplanting, now is a good time to do it whilst they are at their most dormant stage. Plant with a firm stake if height is involved.

Even though frosts are few here on the coast, continue protecting tender plants inclined to produce soft growth during a mild Winter - they will be badly effected by the arrival of severe frosts.

Turn over compost - add some lime now if you have not already done so and moisture if the pile is dry.

On the coast plant in full sun seedling veg plants that are now on offer. If your veg garden loses sun in Winter, use this time to dig in manure/compost and a sprinkle of lime to sweeten.

I have long known the advantages of growing Comfrey, but have lately been reading up on it again - such a useful plant. If you can get your hands on some, I suggest you plant root sections in an area of garden where it can spread and send roots very deep into the soil to tap into much needed nutrients. It is fast growing, high in potassium and can be cut back again and again. I have listed below some uses for Comfrey around the garden.

Compost activator - add to your compost bin to heat up the decomposing materials and enrich the compost.

Cram Comfrey leaves into a bucket, add water and let them rot down. The leaves soon turn into a repulsive smelling sludge and after two weeks the mixture will be like brownish, green soup - strain it and put the sludge on the compost, then bottle the liquid to use as a base fertiliser. Use 1 part to 10 parts water.

Lay Comfrey leaves in a Potato trench and leave for 3 days prior to planting the tubers, to give a potassium rich boost of fertiliser.

Use as a Comfrey leaf mulch around plants, by layering leaves around the stems of plants. Potassium will slowly be released to the plants as the leaves break down - Great for Tomatoes, Beans and Fruit bushes.

It has been discovered that wilting Comfrey leaves become irresistible to slugs and snails - strew them around the plants they chew to distract them. Happy to share a section of Comfrey root if contacted.

Cheers, Linda

Keeping warm and healthy this winter

Winter is here again so its time to get active...

...eat lots of fruit and vegetables to ward off Winter colds and 'flu. Have hot meals and hot drinks to keep your family warm and healthy and wrap up in layers of warm clothes to stay snug when you leave the house.

Why is it important to keep my home warm and dry?

It's important for your family's health that your house is warm and dry. Cold and damp homes are linked to poor health, especially for babies and small children, people who are ill, and older people.

here are some ways to keep your home healthy that won't break the bank:

How to heat your house

Only heat the room that you are in. Try and keep the temperature between 18 and 21 degrees especially if you have babies, people with illnesses, or older people living in your home.

Dress warmly for bed and make sure your bedroom is warm enough - it is very important to stay warm during the night.

Block up unused chimneys and stop draughts around doors and windows. You can make your own draught 'snakes' by stuffing rugby socks or pantyhose with newspaper or cushion filling.

Up to 20% of heating can be lost through draughts. Open windows and curtains on sunny days, and close them when the sun goes down to trap heat in your home. Trim any trees that prevent sun entering your house (but if you are renting, remember to ask your landlord first!).

(in the fridge is best) rather than in the microwave.

Cheap ways to be green and save money

Install eco-friendly bulbs. These bulbs can last for many years and they use 80 per cent less power than standard light bulbs.

An energy efficient showerhead can use up to 50 per cent less hot water than a standard one. Consider installing one yourself, or ask your landlord if one can be fitted.

Check the seals on your fridge to make sure they are still working. If they stop working or become less effective, warm air will enter your fridge, making it work harder and use more power. To test your seals, put a piece of paper in the door and close it. If the paper can be easily pulled out, you may need to have the seals replaced. Do the same with your oven, as it could be losing precious heat energy whenever you cook. Companies that will replace the seals are listed in the yellow Pages under fridges and freezers - Servicing, or Ovens and stoves.

Double glazing on windows is an effective way of controlling heat loss and condensation, but can be very costly. A cheaper alternative is to buy a window insulator kit, which involves fitting plastic film to the inside of wooden windows. This can be done easily, and will make your windows 90 per cent more energy efficient. These can be purchased in the South Island from Community Energy Action, 198 Armagh Street, Christchurch, or email: info@cea.co.nz or in the North island from Negawatt Resources, email: info@nrl.co.nz or phone 0-4-939 0313.

If you are replacing an appliance, try to ensure the replacement appliance is as energy efficient as possible. The higher initial cost will benefit you in the long run through savings made to your power bills.

Emerging issues form basis of public debate

A new set of rules governing everything from the keeping of bees in urban areas to responsible cat ownership is now open for public discussion.

Known as the General Bylaw, the rules are put in place to protect the public from noise, odour, and other hazards and minimise the potential for offensive behaviour in public places and reserves.

Deputy Mayor Melanie Tavendale says the existing General Bylaw is 10 years old and out-of-date and the new bylaw recognised new issues that have emerged in the intervening years.

"The draft General Bylaw covers a multitude of issues from street appeals, collections and street photography to busking in public places," says Cr Tavendale.

"The four main areas we are most concerned with are responsible cat ownership and the keeping of bees, roosters and other birds in urban areas. We are proposing that pet cats are limited to three per household, rules around keeping bees are to be relaxed, with two beehives in urban areas to be permitted, and that keeping of roosters in urban areas are not permitted."

"During the course of reviewing the bylaw, we have been discussing these proposed changes and the suggested changes have not been taken lightly. The updates reflect changing community needs and are designed to allow people to enjoy their surroundings without public disturbance.

The bylaw has been drafted to prevent various forms of nuisance, including noise, which can cause considerable distress for neighbours and people living in urban areas."

The consultation period has opened and will close on Thursday 3 August. Full details can be found at www.waitaki.govt.nz

What's Happening at Weston Playcentre?

We have been having so much fun at Weston Playcentre recently. Last week we held a Matariki celebration for the children and their families. It was so great for lots of Dads and Grandparents to have the opportunity to come along and join in the fun too! We had a yummy fish and chip dinner inside and then ventured outside to roast marshmallows on the fire-yum! The children loved playing with sparklers and twirling them around to make circles in the air. We even had some fireworks to finish off the night. Thanks to all the families who braved the drizzle to make this such a memorable occasion, it was such a great turnout! Some children were lucky enough to visit our local Weston Fire Station last week also. It was great fun exploring the station and the fire truck and trying on some of the fire fighter's gear. Kylie even turned the siren on for us too-it was so loud some of us had to cover our ears!!! Thanks for having us...hopefully we can come for another visit soon. If you and your pre-schooler would like to join in the fun – pop along for three free visits to see if Playcentre is right for you. 2 Airedale Road, Weston. Open Tuesday – Friday, 9am – 11.30am during school term time.

WINTER IS HERE.....

July signals the arrival of winter, but enquiry levels are still very strong and there is limited stock available for buyers to view. The winter market could be the ideal time to sell you property.

Here's a few reasons why:

- ** Less competition properties
- ** More buyers than there are properties for sale
- ** Warm houses sell in winter

Getting through the colder months

While homeowners might be checking to see if their heaters and fireplaces are in working order, there are many other things to make sure the colder months are bearable.

Have a 'deep and meaningful' with your kitchen

Now is a great time to get amongst the nitty gritty bits of your kitchen that you've been neglecting. Pulling out the fridge and cleaning the coils at the back, wiping down the back wall and removing anything icky the kids might have 'hidden' in there and forgotten about back in January.

Get the lighting and heating right

Adjust the temperature in each room so it suits its use. Concentrate the heat on areas that will be regularly lived-in, and use what you need.

The same applies for lighting: eco-friendly bulbs can save money, and ensure everyone turns off lights when they leave a room.

Don't be lazy with the linen

Pulling out musty linen as soon as it gets cold is a truly miserable experience. After sitting in cupboards or boxes for months at a time, make sure to give it all a solid laundering before it gets put into use.

Trim the trees

One part of winter that can wreak havoc is the wild weather. Now that most of the leaves have fallen away, it could be a great time to get pruning on your backyard plants and trees.

Clear the gutters...again

You may feel like you have just done this, but with so many leaves falling this time of year, it's best to do it once more before winter. If you don't get all the leaves out they can cause blockages which can damage your pipes and if it gets really bad can cause household leakages. So, prevention is better than cure.

LJ Hooker Oamaru extends your reach around the world....

Sellers will have their homes promoted around the world when they list with LJ Hooker.

The real estate network has expanded its global reach for vendors by becoming the first New Zealand real estate network to partner with international portal aggregator, ListGlobally.

ListGlobally taps into more than 100 websites across 60 countries with a combined audience of 76 million buyers.

ListGlobally now adds to LJ Hooker's all-round digital marketing offering which includes all the major domestic portals, social media engagements, ljhooker.co.nz and international.ljhooker.com

ListGlobally has the capacity to translate listing content into 16 different languages allowing users to view listings in their preferred dialect. So whether buyers are based in China, the United States, Greece, South Africa or many places in between, they can view the features of sellers' properties in their own languages, allowing them to make decisions with confidence.

Plus with MyListGlobally, we can easily monitor the worldwide publication of your property which enables LJ Hooker to provide you, our customers with a report on traffic to your property listing online.

If you're thinking of selling, contact the team at LJ Hooker Oamaru for a free, no obligation marketing appraisal on 434 9014. When you list exclusively with us, you'll be sharing your property with the world!
