I hope those of you who had time off in the school holidays enjoyed your time with the kids and they didn't drive you too crazy... I am glad we got some nice Spring days amongst the drizzly ones.

Well done to all the children who entered the NZ Petfoods Colouring Competition. There were some amazing entries and I am sure the judges had a hard time picking the prize winners. Regards The Telegram.

MOVING & STORAGE LTD (EST 1989)

Ph Peter 027 434 1289 www.mtcookmoving.co.nz

Here we are in the 2nd week of School holidays and a wet start - not so good for Parents and Children, but wonderful for the garden. Gentle warm Spring drizzle is just right for Spring new growth and sown lawns. Sifting soil will begin again here this week, for resowing lawn bare patches and to add body to gardens, pots, baskets and seed trays. With all the mulches used today, gardens become light and fluffy and don't hold moisture. Soil is nature given for growing and sifted it is the perfect medium for new roots - spread it on top and it will wash in beneath the mulch with each watering.

Spring bulbs are starting to finish. Don't be tempted to cut leaves off just yet, as the bulbs top up on food for next year from leaves as they die back.

If you have really big clumps of bulbs choking your garden space, there will always be someone willing to bring a spade to halve big clumps and adopt bulbs. Put a sign at the gate saying "Bulbs to give away, bring a spade!"

I have had to pull quite a few Lavenders out this year because they have reached the end of their growing. After their trim back at the end of Winter, they were not making a lot of new growth - just a little bit here and there, with most of the plant staying woody. If you have the odd Lavender doing this - pull it out and replace it with a fresh plant. I noticed last year that some plants were not doing well, so I put in cuttings from stronger growing ones which I can plant out now to fill the gaps.

Ericas that flowered over Winter can be trimmed so new growth does not start above the spent flowers.

Take tip cuttings now from Shrubs. Dip them in hormone and push them into firm river sand - they will make roots over the Spring and Summer ready for planting out at the end of next Winter.

Keep an eye on tall growing Chrysanthemums as they start making growth now. Cut back the first new growth before they make hard wood. They do not flower until the Autumn, so by removing the first new growth, they should regrow shorter and be more manageable.

Prune Fuchsias back now if you have not already done so - they will make new fresh growth. Because they flower on new seasons wood, they can be taken well back.

Dahlias: in the garden for Summer colour - tall, medium and dwarf. They are just starting to make a move, so if you want colour to continue in your garden when the Spring show is over, Dahlias will do the job. They like a warm full sun free draining spot - tubers will rot if planted in ground that remains wet.

Too early yet to trim box hedges - wait until the new growth firms up a little. The perfect time to trim Box in Spring, is during overcast days - the hot sun burns new undergrowth - dull days give them time to recover.

Mowers are humming again on lush lawns. Use the clippings around your garden as mulch - not great piles, but evenly scattered around will keep the weeds down and help to retain moisture.

Tomatoes: For those with Glass houses, prepare the soil well by digging in good organic compost. This will need to have been heated to the point of all fungus disease being eradicated. Summers here in N.O. can be cool, so a Glass or Tunnel house is a "must" if wanting to be a serious Tomato grower. However a Glass house is a perfect incubator for fungus disease during nights and dull days, when moisture is not taken up quickly by plants- never let Tomato plant leaves go into the night wet. There are a lot of Tomato varieties to choose from; Beefsteak - the big Tomato best for sandwiches and cooking, Early girl - starts producing early and keeps on until late in the season, Potentate - medium/small firm with moderate acidity and low in sugar Money maker - medium size and good flavour, Doctor Walter is the very low acid Tomato, Cherry Tomatoes - the plant you can grow in a pot inside or on a porch - great for Childrens lunch boxes, Russian Red a - Tomato to grow outside in a sunny spot protected from the wind. Heirloom tomatoes have become popular - they don't look great, but they have the great taste of yesteryear. Most need staked and tied up in the glass house and ALL tomatoes like sun all day - 6 to 8 hours. It helps the fruit if there are fewer leaves on the plants. Tomato leaves compete for nutrients, create unwanted shade and harbour disease.

Keep planting vegetable seeds directly into the garden, but don't sow too thickly. Mix seeds with fine soil when sowing to avoid a lot of thinning. The little gardens from New World are on the go again - a wonderful idea for encouraging Children to grow food. The window-sill is not the place for them once germinated - pot and all can go into the garden to be ready for eating at Christmas

Cheers, Linda.

Don't Tough it out on Your Own

The theme for Mental Health Week this year was "Nature is Key - Unlock Your Wellbeing". The idea is escaping stressful or 'same old rut' work and home environments to eat your lunch in a park or at the beach, to take the family for a weekend bush walk, etc. It can lift spirits, put you back in touch with Nature, and get you thinking about your health, your priorities - and whether you may need to reach out for help or advice.

Federated Farmers President Katie Milne welcomes the focus on mental health and talking through issues and feelings with others. "Our great outdoors can also be a wonderful tonic." But for rural folk, Mother Nature can also be a source of considerable stress. Storms, floods, ailing livestock, droughts, etc., can ratchet up financial woes, relationship strains and the feeling 'it's all too much'.

"We revel in our lifestyle in rural New Zealand - it's beauty, and our role putting top quality food on family tables here and around the world. But if you let it, farming can be a lonely job too," Katie said. "The real message of Mental Health Week is that if the stress is getting too much, it's not smart to tough it out on your own. Talk to your partner, a friend, a neighbour or reach out to one of the professional and confidential help agencies."

Figures released recently by Chief Coroner Judge Deborah Marshall show (provisional statistics) 606 Kiwis took their own life in 2016/17, up from 579 the year before. Men are dying by a suicide at a rate of three men to one woman. Other research shows the suicide rate in New Zealand's rural sector was 20-50 per cent higher than in urban areas. The Mental Health Foundation, sourcing Ministry of Health data, reports that mental disorders are the third-leading cause of health loss for New Zealanders (11.1% of all health loss), behind cancers (17.5%) and vascular and blood disorders

(17.5%). "For something so common among us, it's a huge shame that talking about mental wellbeing is still regarded as a bit taboo, or somehow weak. We've got to get rid of that sort of nonsense attitude," Katie said. "We can't solve every challenge by ourselves. Your loved ones will feel devastated if you never gave them the chance to understand how you were really feeling." Katie, who is also on the Council of Rural Health Alliance Aotearoa New Zealand, also has a message for the incoming Government: "It's past time the inequalities of access to health services for the 600,000 people living in rural New Zealand were addressed."

Recipe of the Week:

Savoury Sausage Roll

500gr sausage meat, 1 cup grated cheese,
1 cup Breadcrumbs, 1tsp sugar,
1/2 cup grated apple 1tsp curry powder,
1 small onion, 1 beaten egg,
Salt and Pepper Sprinkle of mixed Herbs.

Flour board and roll out sausage meat. Beat egg in bowl. Add all ingredients to egg and mix. If very dry, a little milk doesn't hurt. Spread stuffing mixture on rolled out sausage meat, roll up and place in sponge roll tin. Bake 1.1/4 hours at 180C.

St Joseph's International Food Fair

On Sunday the 29th of October from 10.30am, our gates will open at St Joseph's school for our wonderful international food fair. This is our 3rd year and we are so in love with this event.

We have a lovely multi-cultural community in our school and we warmly welcome you and your family to share and enjoy this occasion that is colorful, exciting, energetic and DELICIOUS!!

Our clever and amazing families are cooking on 9 stalls - Pacifica, Indian, Chinese, Mexican, Filipino, Malaysian, Zimbabwean, Dutch and New Zealand. To excite the senses, some examples are Satay chicken, Donuts, Waffles, Chop suey, Nachos, Butter chicken, Wontons, Fried rice, Sausage and Manioke.

Each plate is $5 and all proceeds go towards our school improvements and equipment. Our school children are all involved on the day with activities, fun games, cake wheel and entertainment. Fun for all the family!

Stoptober – like October but without the cigarettes!

Stoptober – It's just like October but without the cigarettes! There's still a few weeks left of October and people who smoke in the south, are being encouraged to give stopping a go this month. "The Southern DHB Smokefree team are promoting the Stoptober campaign in the southern district - even though it's not running nationally this year," says Debby Newton, Southern DHB Smokefree Coordinator.

Stoptober is being promoted on the Smokefree South Facebook page. People who smoke are encouraged to check out the daily posts throughout the month for motivation, information and encouragement to give stopping a go. Stopping smoking is always easier in groups, so the team are suggesting to people who smoke to get their friends and family together and set a goal to go the month of October without cigarettes. "People feel so much better after a month without cigarettes, and often they carry on not smoking," says Ms Newton.

The Southern Stop Smoking Service is ready and waiting to provide free support for those joining the campaign. "You have a greater chance of succeeding with the support the Southern Stop Smoking service offers," says Ms Newton. "Send a Facebook message to the DHB Smokefree team and they will talk to you all about the free support available."

Is 2017 the year of the Little Blue?

Topflite and the Otago/South Canterbury community hope to make it happen. The popular Bird of the Year contest run by Forest and Bird is now in its 13th year. The kororā (little blue penguin) has never taken out the title. Topflite, as campaign manager, is planning an energetic election campaign to ensure the penguin has a fighting chance this year.

The kororā is distributed along the coastlines of New Zealand, with large numbers in Otago and Canterbury. The Oamaru Blue Penguin Colony is one of the largest in New Zealand. Numbers of blue penguins are in decline and their conservation status is 'at risk'. Recent reports in the media have highlighted how human activity, dogs and other pests are impacting on survival rates. Winning Bird of the Year would attract some much-needed attention for the kororā.

The Oamaru Blue Penguin Colony has pledged to support the campaign. Kororā fan ellaquaint, the illustrator behind Topflite's new packaging, is also getting behind it. She will provide a special edition prize - to be revealed during the campaign.

Topflite is calling on the Otago/South Canterbury community to help the campaign in any way they can. Some ideas:

1. Vote for the kororā at birdoftheyear.org.nz
2. Share photos or stories about the kororā using the hashtags #BirdOfTheYear #votelittleblue
3. Follow the campaign on Facebook
www.facebook.com/votelittleblue/
4. Businesses could provide incentives of their own
5. Make a video or poster about the kororā
6. Encourage everyone in Otago/South Canterbury to vote!
Voting has begun at www.birdoftheyear.org.nz
